50 Days of Joy and Reconciliation

"The Lord is risen!—He is risen indeed!" These reassuring words accompany us between Easter and Pentecost beginning with Easter morning. 50 days dedicated to the joyous events of Easter. But how do you actually take the joy of Easter into your daily life? One key is reconciliation. In other words: The confidence that relationships can heal and that not all disagreements and ruptures in life are final. Easter lifts the finality, despite our conviction that it's all over. Easter surprises, even when people are certain that there is no turning back anymore.

The apostle Paul is excited about this phenomenon and writes to his friends in Corinth:

In Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting the message of reconciliation to us. So we are ambassadors for Christ, since God is making his appeal through us; we entreat you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. (2 Cor 5:19–20)

Reconciliation needs will power and courage on both sides, for the person in need of forgiveness and the one granting forgiveness. Both have to jump over their own shadows, the shadows of hopelessness which binds us into believing that nothing makes a difference anymore. Reconciliation in everyday life means, not to give up on broken relationships but to make room for hope.

From Jesus we can learn, that hope has a good chance when one of the parties dares to take the first step in order to initiate reconciliation. This is certainly what God conveyed. In Christ he has practically granted forgiveness in advance. He prepared a path of hope without assurance that all will accept it. He breaks with the traditional human pattern which is quite often: But you have to make the first move! Even children play like that. As children of God, Jesus encourages us to discard this old pattern and to leave it behind.

For God, reconciliation and healing is so important that he passes through death, so that we have hope and find the courage to live in reconciliation.

The 50 joyous days between Easter and Pentecost are probably way too short to let this message penetrate through our entire life. They are surely a humble beginning and a good opportunity. Take courage and have hope to get on your way as ambassadors of God's reconciliation. It will do you, and the people you encounter a world of good.

With joyous Easter greetings
Your Pastor

Presidents' Message

Dear Members and Friends,

Thank you so much to everyone who attended our Annual Meeting on the 21st of February 2016. Your comments and questions show that you care about our church and church community. Thank you for supporting the Council in 2015 and I am certain that you will continue to support us in 2016. Thank you to the Coffee and Cake team for your hospitality during the Meeting. Your help is always appreciated.

At our last Council retreat we created and set a number of priorities for 2016:

- Growth—we are trying to draw in more congregational members to the English service. Invite people, tell them about the wonderful things we are doing and maybe they will be inspired to join our MLC family
- Public relations—our logo reflects who we are: we are a group of people who are welcoming and are ready to share our talents with not only our neighbourhood, but also our global neighbourhood.
- Leadership—this is constantly being developed, we will continue to work on this through the roundtable meetings and in church council.
- Church services—we are looking for ways to enhance our services. Sometimes changes will make our services better
- Day Care—even though numbers are low, we will not give up on this mission, the neighbourhood and the families need our support

This year we had four members leave Council.

- Iris Schweiger, who was our president, had to leave after six years. During her time she served as President, helped start some committees and teams and was instrumental in building relationships with groups in the community. Thank you Iris for all your hard work, I have big shoes to fill.
- Gisela Wilhelm also left after her 6-year term was over. Gisela was always available to help in any way possible. Thank you for all your hard work on the 60th Anniversary Celebration.
- Larissa Mattwisch completed her 6 years and had to leave us this year. Luckily, she has volunteered to remain on the finance team and continue writing cheques.
- Martin Haeefe also completed his 6 years on Council. Thank you Martin for all your hard work the last 6 years, but thank you for deciding to stay on as treasurer.

Council is welcoming Susanne Watson and Anita Ratz as new members. I am sure that they will bring new ideas and inspiration to our Council.

I would like to congratulate Ernie Wienecke, who is the Vice-President and Alex Rygus, who is Secretary.

As I begin my first year as President, I ask that you continue to include Council in your prayers. We are here to help, lead and support the Congregation. Please feel free to come to any one of us with any questions or concerns you might have.

Please continue to support the Martin Luther Church with your financial support, but also with your many talents. If you would like to know more about how you can support the MLC community, or if you're not sure where your talents are most needed, please come and find me on a Sunday morning and I'd be happy to share a cup of coffee or tea with you in our basement after the service.

5 Superior

The restoration of 5 Superior is in the final stage. Tenants now occupy the two upper apartments. Several items still have to be worked out with the contractor and the insurance company. This will not have an impact on day care operations. We expect to complete this lengthy project in the next few weeks..

Dear congregation, we are sorry about the garbage containers on the sidewalk in front of the church, sometimes even on a Sunday. Some changes with the city contractor and the location have been causing us grief for some time now with the garbage pickup in our part of Etobicoke. We are in contact with the city and are hoping to quickly find a sustainable solution. We are grateful for your patience in this matter.

EKD Seminar in February 2016

To summarize: What would you like to hear first? The good news or the good news?

53 church council members from 46 German churches on five continents traveled for three days to Hanover to get excited about being Lutheran. The whole Saturday was spent learning about all the events planned for the Reformation anniversary in 2017. Museums in North America open their doors to display Reformation artifacts (providing enough online material for churches to create their own little museum experience), films about the Reformation are in the making, in Europe a huge trailer spreads the Reformation message from May until September from city to city to end its months long trek in Wittenberg and there, you might like to spend 6 days at the EKD Tent of Welcome to meet members of EKD churches and greet visitors from all over the world. 90% of the cost for the trip are covered. If you, your friends and family are interested, please talk to Iris.

Another way to profit from the excellent projects run and sponsored by the EKD is the lay preacher seminar from the 2nd – 5th of February 2017, followed by the church council seminar just a week later.

Expats: In the seminar it was mentioned that Germans temporarily living abroad can donate to the church in the country they are residing in and reclaim this donation from church taxes paid in Germany. An official letter from the EKD with the outlined procedure is expected shortly.

Needless to say, it was an excellent trip. Thank you to the MLC and the EKD for the opportunity to learn.

—Iris Schweiger

Theological Background

Lutheran Worship in Germany and North-America

„Dear friends, let us bless this house and consecrate it to our Lord Jesus Christ, [...] so that there is nothing else happening in here, than that our Lord speaks to us through his sacred word and that we speak with him through prayer and praise.” Martin Luther spoke these words when he consecrated the church of the castle in Torgau and defined his understanding in one sentence. This structure—God speaks to us through his word and we speak to him through our prayers—is typical for a worship service for millennia. When celebrating worship, we not only begin a conversation with God, but remember the history Christianity had with God and our Jewish heritage. The psalms and readings from the Old Testament are elements of worship Jesus himself celebrated in the temple in Jerusalem and in the synagogues in the countryside. The readings from the New Testament bring the life and teaching of Jesus to the congregation. The sermon as interpretation of the Holy Scripture is something Jesus himself did in the synagogues in his time. The unique elements of Christian worship are the celebration of Holy Communion and the Lord’s Prayer, elements which connect us with Jesus in a special way.

Martin Luther’s definition of worship as conversation is found in the liturgical setting of worship itself: greeting, exchange of information through the Prayer of the Day, the readings and the sermon, sometimes having a meal together, and then the good-bye with sending and blessing. All this accompanied by music and singing.

During the centuries the worship became more ritualized, so that a Christian from Jerusalem could celebrate the same worship in Rome as he did back home. With Christianity becoming the major religion with millions of believers, Christianity split into regional churches and worship diversified with regional traditions. We can encounter this nowadays when we take part in the worship services of different Christian denominations: the Lutheran worship is different than for instance the Catholic or the Presbyterian.

But there are regional differences in the denominations as well. When looking at the Lutheran worship in Germany and in North-America, we see differences in the liturgy and in the music. Using different music is due to the different languages and also to the different development of music in North-America and Germany. The Lutheran church follows herein Luther's demand to "look at the crowd's mouth" and use the everyday language and music in worship. The differences in the liturgy have a different background: In Germany the evangelical churches of the Lutheran and Reformed traditions began to develop a common worship setting with elements of both traditions and in opposition to the Catholic worship service. This led to the common guidelines for evangelical service introduced on the First of Advent 1999. In North-America meanwhile, the Lutheran church found its identity marker in being THE liturgical protestant church with a sung liturgy and elaborate worship elements.

Our Martin-Luther-Church is a church where the German and the North-American Lutheran traditions meet and invigorate each other. As of now, we still use a German liturgy in the English Service, so the Worship-Team, working together with the Church Council, suggested to try out a North-American liturgy for a couple of months, beginning on the 8th of May. If you are interested you can check Setting Ten in the Evangelical Lutheran Worship on page 203.

—Moritz Menacher

Now the full number of those who believed were of one heart and soul, and no one said that any of the things that belonged to him was his own, but they had everything in common. And with great power the apostles were giving their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all. There was not a needy person among them, for as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them and brought the proceeds of what was sold.

(Acts 4: 32-34)

Easter Thank You's

We were blessed to start Holy Week with the Harfentöne Choir on Palm Sunday. We thank the Senior's Group and all volunteers for their help with the luncheon. We also thank Linda and the congregational choir for singing on Good Friday and Easter Sunday. The Worship Team and Patricia looked after the special Lenten and Easter flowers and decorations. Not be forgotten are Dan and his Breakfast Team who made sure the early risers were fortified for the rest of the Easter Sunday celebrations.

News from the Sunday School

Our Sunday School Team participated in two workshops in January and February. Topics were "Sunday School—Expectations and Liturgy" and "Aspects of Age and Gender". As well as new ideas, materials and methods for our Sunday School, we formulated three expectations for our Sunday School: 1. Kids should feel comfortable in Sunday School and want to come. 2. Sunday School should inspire to believe. 3. The kids should take something home from Sunday School, a new idea or story or craft.

Confirmand's Retreat at Crieff Hills From March 4 to 6, our confirmands discovered the passion of Christ during a retreat at Crieff Hills together with the confirmands from St. Paul's and Christ the King - Dietrich Bonhoeffer Church.

Syrian Refugees Update

Our sponsored Syrian family were welcomed at Martin Luther Church during a joint service in February. They are receiving regular visits at their own apartment from members of our support team where they practice English and explore city resources like the local library and swimming pool. We are planning a joint BBQ in the beginning of April. They are all very happy to be in Canada, one of them saying, "This is heaven"!

The support team has decided to sign a new co-sponsorship application with CLWR (Canadian Lutheran World Relief) in order to reunite Ritta with her parents. In the meantime, we continue to work with churches, different refugee organisations and the federal government to inspire, get help and improve processes.

All are welcome to join the ongoing efforts of the team.
